

I'm just a little lost lamb

ALEXANDRA GAUCI

SHE was found on the side of the road alone.

But loveable lamb Annabelle is now on the path to true happiness.

The woolly wanderer was handed in to Lamb Care Australia, which rehomes abandoned animals.

Sarah Gardner took in Annabelle, declaring her the perfect companion during times of isolation.

"Annabelle gives our kids a chance to learn how to care for animals and it's something they wouldn't be able to do in a classroom," Ms Gardner said.

"We initially just wanted to foster on the weekends, but now we've decided to foster Annabelle full-time."

Assange hearing delay bid

WIKILEAKS founder Julian Assange will try to postpone his US extradition hearing due to ongoing lack of access to his lawyers in London's locked-down Belmarsh prison.

The Australian met his lawyers in person for the first time in a month in the holding cells of Woolwich Crown Court last week.

Assange directed them to ask District Court Judge Vanessa Baraitser to postpone his next hearing, which is set for May 18.

His lawyers will cite the ongoing lack of access to their client, the inability of key witnesses to attend and the lack of proper media scrutiny if the hearing continues amid lockdown.

WikiLeaks ambassador Joseph Farrell said it was clear the hearing could not go on in the current environment.

"Julian's lawyers cannot prepare adequately, witnesses will not be able to travel, and journalists and the public will not have free, adequate and safe access to the proceedings," he said in a statement yesterday. "Justice will neither be done, nor seen to be done."
